FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Mobility Innovator – Good Technology – Joins CDM Media’s Upcoming Business Summits

May 19, 2010 - CDM Media is pleased to announce that Good Technology – the mobile security enterprise leader – will participate in the upcoming 2010 Strategic Business Summits for CIOs and IT solution providers. Good Technology will join four upcoming events, kicking off with the CIO Government Summit which will take place May 23-26, 2010 at the InterContinental Montelucia Resort in Scottsdale, AZ.

“Good Technology is an industry leader for all things mobility and we are truly pleased to welcome their participation in the upcoming CDM Media events. The goal of our strategic business summits is to provide attending CIOs a platform for idea sharing. The CIOs that attend our events represent North America’s leading financial services, public and private sector agencies, insurance providers and Fortune 100 companies. Good Technology’s support and participation in the upcoming events are sure to provide attendees with the latest developments on the enterprise mobility front,” said Glenn Willis, CEO, CDM Media.

Good Technology will participate in four upcoming CDM Media events; CIO Government Summit, May 23-26, 2010 (www.ciogovernmentsummit.com), CIO Finance Summit, August 29-September 1, 2010 (www.ciofinancesummit.com), CIO Insurance Summit, October 16 -20, 2010 (www.cioinsurancesummit.com) and the cross-industry CIO Summit, November 7-10, 2010 (www.ciosummit.us). At each event Good Technology will have senior – level executive representation on-site and will participate in an array of agenda sessions including the CIO thought-leadership sessions, CIO case studies, and executive visions panel discussions

Representing Good Technology at the upcoming CIO Government Summit are Grant Moore and Mark Williams who both lead public sector channels at Good Technology and have extensive backgrounds in mobile messaging and security.
